LARGE RESPONSE TO EVANGELIST JONES' APPEAL LAST NIGHT, BASED ON 'EXCUSES'

Attendance Slightly Lessened
Because of the Inclement Weather

SEVENTEEN EXCUSES FOR NON-ACCEPTANCE

All Are Answered by the Speaker in an Eloquent Sermon

10:00 a. m. Cottage Prayer meetings in all districts.
12:00 Noon. Shop meetings.
4:00 p. m. Tabernacle sermon—"Salvation and Rewards"—Bob Jones.

7:30 p. m. Song Service. Sermon, "The Seebnd Coming of Christ"—Bob Jones.

Special Delegations—Woodmen of the World and Woodmen Circle, United Confederate Veterans, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Ex-service Men, Daughters of the American Revolution, and The Ladies' Clubs of this district.

The response last night was large and instantaneous when Bob Jones called for penitents, following his sermon on "Excuses". The attendance was off a little on account of rain, but the tabernacle was entirely full, and as indicated by the large number of seaters the enthusiasm was as high as higher than at any previous service. Mr. Jones said God's purpose in all His dealings with people seemed to be, to get them to take a sane and sober view of their responsibilities.
He illustrated the excuse "there are so many hypocrites in the church" by saying that should he start for Montgomery and should find a lot of liars, faithful, traitors, bootleggers on ward, would he ask to leave the train.
He said that he would not, but that he would continue on his way home and at when he got to Montgomery, Alabama, he could leave the train and all such "cattle".
He then inquired, in what other way can by being Christians, could one ever hope to escape the hypocrites, but if he decided to make his bed in all they were sure to be there.

- The text used was: "Escape for your life", words said by the speaker to be an appeal to common sense.
"If you do not believe in God, the devil, hell and heaven this message not for you; if you do believe, you are a fool to go to bed without Christ." Excuses up to 17, were referred to as to why people said they rejected Christ, but they were declared not to be seventeen reasons.
- 1.—"Unwillingness to shake hands with the preacher".
 - 2.—"Don't like the way he preaches".
 - 3.—"Am just waiting for some quiet Sunday service".
 - 4.—"I'm not so bad".
 - 5.—"Some one might criticize".
 - 6.—"I've been mistreated by some church member".
 - 7.—"Waiting for the crowd to accept Him".
 - 8.—"Waiting to feel right".
 - 9.—"I have tried but back-slid".
 - 10.—"Don't believe in instantaneous conversion." The speaker reminded that "choice" was always instantaneous.
 - 11.—"Not good enough". The man closest to God, always says "Lord, I cannot do any good thing by myself".
 - 12.—"Too many hypocrites in the church." It was reminded that Christ ordered that the "tares" remain with the good wheat until the harvest.
 - 13.—"Will start when I am sure I will stick." No man ever got to heaven without starting; better start presently.
 - 14.—"Will have to give up too much. You will not have to give up anything, except what injures you and others."
 - 15.—"I'll think about it. If convinced a thing is right 'do it now'".
 - 16.—"Time enough yet".
 - 17.—"Yes, I agree, but not tonight." "You may pluck one flower of sin too many. The rope of bad living, swings you further and further

Coal Famine is Due Within the Next 60 Days

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The gravest coal crisis confronting the nation in years is due within the next 60 days, John B. Pratt, of the National Coal Association, predicted today.

Nothing short of a coal famine during the coming winter faces the middle west and north west which are supplied by the bituminous coal fields according to present indications. The weekly production of bituminous coal has been nearly 2,500,000 tons short of normal.
Added to this shortage is the problem of transportation.

When the rush season begins, which will be about the middle of October, the railroads will not have enough cars to move coal to supply the demand, according to Mr. Pratt.

Travel Broadened Her, Quit in Favor of New Neighbors

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—This is almost a case of being hoist by her own petard. Summer colonists on the east end of Long Island have serious trouble with the matter of keeping servants. One woman whose cottage is in Bridgehampton had a new cook each week before she finally got one who seemed content. To be assured that this contentment would last, the mistress turned her car over to the newcomer every Thursday afternoon, instructing the chauffeur to take her wherever she wished to go. Bridget saw the surrounding country, and liked it. One day without warning she disappeared. The only clue was contained in this note, which was found pinned to her dresser cover:
"I'd sooner Southampton than Bridge."

Ellis Island has seen more tragedies, probably, than any other spot in this country; but there is something unusually poignant, even for that place, in the turning back to Europe of Lorence Hauman. His parents and brothers landed here last month, but he had been left behind with relatives because of illness, with the understanding that he would join them here as soon as possible. He came, and his parents and brothers eagerly made the trip to Ellis Island to meet him. The quota of immigrants from his country for September had been reached, however, before his ship arrived, and he was not allowed to land, but was ordered deported on the next steamer. Not even could his family go aboard to see him and to say goodbye. That, too, would have been against the law.

Requests to organizations and institutions are not often entirely unexpected. When one does come that way, there is something particularly gratifying about it. It presupposes a great amount of unknown appreciation somewhere in the world. The National Board of the Y. W. C. A. has just received word of a rather remarkable expression of such good will. Miss Mary Cunningham, sixty years of age, died recently in Elgin, Ill., where she had worked for many years in a watch factory. She was, in fact its oldest employee. She had always lived at the factory dormitory and spent very little money aside from bare living expenses. When her will was read, it was found that she had saved about $6,000 during these years, and with the exception of a bequest to her church, had left it all to the Y. W. C. A. She had no family ties and these were the things which were dearest to her, although the members of the organization itself had not realized the place the Y. W. held in her heart. Years ago, it seems she became interested in the work of the Association, but had seldom visited it in recent years, and few knew of her intense interest in its work. "It was because of what they did for the girls in the factory," explained one of those who knew her best. "She knew the value of that work as people outside can't."

A novel and interesting sight-seeing trip was taken over in Newark the other day when detectives took young Leonard Hoffman, 19 years old, on a tour of the city while he pointed

ELMORE COUNTY CAPTIVES MAY BE TRANSFERRED TO SOME OTHER JAIL

State Prison Department Sends an Inspector to Probe Reports

INTENSE INTEREST IN THE ARREST OF DRY OFFICERS

Prominent Attorney is Retained to Represent the Accused Prisoners

(International News Service)
MONTGOMERY, Sept. 22.— Dr. Glenn Andrews, state prison inspector, after visiting the Elmore county jail at Wetumpka, where six men including three state law enforcement deputies are held on charges of murder, had the prisoners removed to more roomy quarters in the jail where they will have every comfort.

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Sept. 22.—Reports that sanitary conditions in the Elmore county jail are bad caused the state prison inspection department Wednesday afternoon to start an investigation with the view of causing the removal to another prison of A. W.
Crowe, W. H. Knox and J. I. Shores, state law enforcement department, and Freeman Hale, John Jones and Spencer Sanford, who are charged with the murder of Lee Taunton and the wounding of Marion Oliver De-wett during a raid on a moonshine still near Eclectic, Elmore county, Tuesday.

An inspector left the capital late Wednesday and if sanitary conditions are found to be bad the men will be ordered to the Montgomery county for imprisonment until their preliminary trial. The same report which told of the alleged bad sanitary conditions said that Sheriff J. H. Strength had made a rule that no food could be sent into the prison from the outside and that all must eat nothing but prison fare.

The six men will be given preliminary trials before W. R. Osborne, justice of the peace, at Wetumpka Friday morning. Plans had been made so the trials could be held Thursday for it was announced late Wednesday afternoon that the evidence could not be collected by Thursday.

Intense interest is being shown in the arrest of the three law enforcement officers and the three citizens who were constituted a citizens' posse for the assistance of the officers in the raid. Elmore county has been greatly divided in recent months as a result of the activities of law enforcement officers and the bringing of impeachment proceedings against Sheriff Strength, who was charged with failing to enforce the prohibition laws.
After a trial before the supreme court which lasted most of a week, the court held that the evidence against the sheriff was not sufficient to remove him from office. It returned a verdict of acquittal.

Officer Shores was one of the important witnesses against the sheriff and all members of the citizens' posse now held in prison were active in the campaign against violators of the prohibition laws and assisted the state in the preparation of the case against Sheriff Strength.

As soon as the officers were placed in prison, Solicitor Alexander of Prattville went to Wetumpka and has been making an independent investigation with the view of holding those against whom there is evidence of guilt and of liberating those who had no part in the killing or if the shooting was necessary for the protection of the lives of the raiders.

Few additional details of the killing have reached Montgomery since the first reports. The state law enforcement department Wednesday insisted that not a shot was fired by the raiding party until pickets protecting the still had fired at them and that it was necessary to shoot to protect the lives of the raiding party.

The law enforcement department also stated that after the killing, a still was raided and that three persons were arrested on a charge of being interested in its operation.
Sheriff Strength first arrested Officer Crowe and charged him with being the person who killed Taunton.

MEDICAL STAFF OF FRENCH ARMY AIDS IN TREATMENT OF GERMAN CIVILIANS

Loss of Life in Explosion Now Estimated at 1200
Persons

2000 INJURED TAKE THE HOSPITAL FACILITIES

Private Homes Converted Into Hospitals for Treatment of the Wounded

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Sept. 22.—The entire medical staff of the French army of occupation on the Rhine arrived at Ludwigshafen today to assist in treating the vast number of persons who were injured in the gigantic explosion which wrecked the plant of the Bad-ische Anilin Fabrik company at Oppau with loss of life estimated at 1200.

About 2,000 persons were injured and all the hospitals in Ludwigshafen and Mannheim are crowded and scores of public buildings and private houses have been converted into hospitals. Hundreds of families are homeless.

Following an investigation officials of the company issued a statement saying that the blast had occurred in a warehouse containing 200 tons of ammonium sulphate. The exact cause is not yet known.

The war-time bombardments of Oppau, Mannheim and Ludwigshafen by allied aviators were nothing compared to the explosion of yesterday. The estimated damage was placed at 200, 000,000 marks, normally $48,000,000 in American money. Oppau was a war town. It grew up around the dye plant which was erected for the manufacture of poison gas during the war. It was one of the first places where poison gas manufactured for war purposes and vast amounts of this war material was turned out during the conflict.

After the war the factory was converted back to an aniline plant.

(International News Service)
PARIS, Sept. 22.—The explosion that wrecked the Oppau plant of Badische Anilin Fabrik company is thought by some to have been the result of experiments with new war gases, telegraphed the Oppau correspondent of a Paris newspaper this afternoon.

More than 900 bodies have been recovered, the dispatch added.

Former Residents Injured in Crash

A letter received by friends here from J. H. Edwards tells of the serious injury of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Scott, former Twin City residents, in an automobile crash in Atlanta, Ga.
Mr. and Mrs. Scott were driving in their own car which was struck by an automobile driven by a negro. Both of the injured were removed to hospitals, but both will recover. The negroes escaped.

State officers and members of the citizens posse refused to give the sheriff any information and he then preferred a charge of murder against each.
Information from Wetumpka Wednesday afternoon was that Officer Crowe had been placed in a separate cell.

The citizens who are held with the officers are among the best known in the county and have taken a leading part in the movement for the suppression of the manufacture of liquor, according to information here.
John Jones is a Confederate soldier and is more than eighty years old. To persons who visited him in his cell last night he said he regretted that it was necessary to kill Taunton. "The Lord knows I did not want the blood of any man on my hands," he said.

J. M. Holly, one of the best known attorneys of Central Alabama and a leader of the law enforcement element of Elmore county, has been employed to defend the citizens under arrest. It has been reported that an application for a change of venue will be filed if the accused persons are bound over to the grand jury and indictments are returned, the contention being that fair trials could not be obtained in Elmore county.

Reds Intend to Enter Negotia-

DEVELOPMENT PLANS REVEALED TO U. N. S.

Official Finds Position Much the Same as Confronted the United States

(Copyright by the I. N. S.)

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—Soviet Russia intends to enter into negotiations with England and France for a settlement of the national debts which Russia contracted in those countries under the old czarist regime, Leonid Krassin, Bolshevist trade commissioner, told the International News Service today.

In the most important interview that has ever come from an official of the Moscow government, Krassin outlined the following plans and hopes of the Soviet:

1. Construct an irrigation system in the Volga district to assist agriculture and prevent a recurrence of famine such as Russia is now suffering.
2. Rehabilitate the nation commercially, industrially and agriculturally as the United States was reconstructed after the civil war.
3. Meet foreign debts and restore the normal value of Russian money.
4. Secure vast supplies outside of Russia through long time credits.
"Our position is similar to that of the United States after the civil war. We hope to come back in a similar style, but it is absolutely necessary to improve agriculture. I think that the psychology of our people is such that after times of great stress, such as we have passed through, our productivity will be greater than ever before. As a rule we shall want long time credits, at least five years and longer for large sums."

G. O. P. CONSIDERS INVOKING CLOTURE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—As a means of choking off filibustering and the practice of speaking at length in the senate Republican leaders today are seeking to devise some modified form of cloture to restrict debate within what they term reasonable bounds. The danger of the senate becoming caught in a legislative jam is spurring them on to affect a revision of the senate rules so as to permit them to invoke cloture by a majority instead of a two thirds vote and to give them the advantage of a special rule to clamp the lid on debate such as the house possesses. The President wants congress to clean up its legislative slate before the Washington conference on the limitation of armament.

Senate Resumes Anti Beer Fight on Special Vote

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Supporters of the bone dry search and seizure provisions of the anti beer bill forced the senate today to take up the conference vote on the measure. By a vote of 31 to 23 a motion by Senator Sterling, of South Dakota, that the senate resume consideration of the conference report, was adopted, despite efforts made by Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, to have the tax revision bill taken up instead.

The senate's action gave the anti-beer measure the right of way over taxation and all other pending legislation.

FEAR TOO MUCH EXPECTED FROM ARMS MEETING

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Fears that the American people, in common with the other peoples of the world, are being led to expect too much to result from the forthcoming November conference on armaments are being voiced openly in Washington today by the highest officials of the administration.

Members of congress returning from their contact with home folks have reported to officials that interest in the November conference is tremendous throughout the country and that the impression apparently exists that the conference is going to do away with armies and navies.

Officials are frankly disturbed about it. If the hopes of the people run too high it is easily conceivable that disappointment will follow, they believe, and they already are considering ways and means of educating the public mind to the true state of affairs. It is extremely doubtful that present armies and navies will be materially reduced by any action at the conference, one official said today.

KLAN'S OFFICIALS MAY VISIT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Officials of the Ku Klux Klan may be asked to come to Washington to consult with department of justice officials relative to affairs of that organization, Attorney General Daugherty indicated today.

The Attorney General said that no decision had been reached yet as to whether the government will take action against the Klan. He suggested, however, that if action is deemed necessary that it may be that it can best be brought about through state court procedure.

"There is no room in this country for a self-constituted vigilance organization. The department of justice is well organized for enforcing the law and there is no need for any organization which seeks to define the rights of American citizens," The Attorney General said.

Tallapoosa county would like to suc-

WHETHER 'MOVIE' STAR WILL FACE TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE IS ISSUE

Defense Expected to Break Its Silence at Afternoon
Hearing

PROSECUTOR WORRIED BY DOCTOR'S ABSENCE

Physician Who Attended Virginia Rappe Still Among the Missing

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.— Whether Roscoe Arbuckle must face jury trial for murder is to be decided at the preliminary hearing in police court this afternoon. The hearing is expected to give the first inkling of the defense of Arbuckle against the charge that he, by an attack, caused injuries which resulted in the death of Virginia Rappe, film actress.

Until today the defense has maintained silence, but with the examination of witnesses to be placed on the stand by the state in an effort to secure commitment of Arbuckle to trial before the superior court for murder, the battle to free the film star was to be underway.

The morning was spent in active preparation for the hearing. Frank Dominguez, chief counsel for the defense, arrived from Los Angeles this morning and went into conference with his associates. District Attorney Brady planned a brisk presentation of his case against Arbuckle.

For the first time today anxiety was expressed by the District Attorney's office because of failure of Dr.
Arthur Beardslee to put in an appearance.

One of the first physicians to attend Miss Rappe, he left on a hunting trip before her death and was located only last Saturday in a wild mountain country. He agreed to return and should have arrived yesterday.

A detective was assigned today to search for him.

SHERMAN TALKS

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Lowell Sherman, movie actor, who is desired as a witness by the prosecutor at San Francisco in the "Fatty" Arbuckle case was located by detectives today and served with a request subpoena which requires him to submit to questioning by Edward Swann, New York district attorney.

Sherman said he was willing to tell all he knew concerning the Arbuckle party and, according to the district attorney, did so this morning. A transcript of Sherman's deposition will be sent immediately to District Attorney Mathew Brady in San Francisco. Meanwhile Sherman said he would remain in New York with his wife.

Extension of Time on Rates Requested

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Sept. 22.—The perennial battle regarding freight rates in Alabama seems to be passing through a readjustment of forces since the public service commission announced that it would on October 3 take up the petition of the railroads for a further extension of time for the operation of the twenty-five per cent increase in freight rates granted by the director-general of railroads.

It became known today that the traffic bureau of Birmingham, Montgomery and Dothan have requested the public service commission to grant an extension of time, but nothing has been received regarding the attitude of the traffic bureau of Mobile and Selma.

NO PESSIMISM IN SCHOOL WORK

The school year has just begun in every state in the Union. In a very large sense the opening of the school year is much more important than the beginning of a new calendar year. In January we are moving with time, in September we move into a new world of ideas. Not only the students and children feel the effects of school time and school problems, but every individual who comes in contact with the young. More ideas that will stick come into being in school days than during any other period of life. It is the time set aside for acquiring useful knowledge—a time for filling the mental storehouse with enough working facts, to begin at least the battle of life.

Two things among many others may be mentioned as essential to a successful school year. First, those who stay at home and do the world's work must furnish and equip the schools to the best possible advantage. Enough money must be at hand, to care for the physical equipment. Enough money must be furnished to pay reasonably attractive salaries for the teachers of the students. But in passing it should be said, that if teachers expect their chief remuneration in the pay envelope, they will not make good as to that ambition, nor will they make good as teachers of the rising generation. The stipend set aside for the instructions of the men and women of the future, is a small thing compared to the privilege that is theirs. Teachers should never envy those who work only on material objects, as they have a much more interesting and lasting task to accomplish.

In the second place, if the school year is to be a success there must be a consuming ambition among the students to acquire thorough training. An education that will draw them out toward better things, and fit their minds to become fit instruments with which to seek to solve the intricate problems of life. Teacher and student alike should begin the school year with no pessimism, but with sincere faith and full determination.

FORD DOES NOT APPEAR TO BE WORRYING ABOUT HIS OFFER

Alabama is awaiting Secretary Week's decision on the Muscle Shoals matter. It has been some weeks since the Ford proposition was submitted. Since then others have been sent in, but only one of them, besides the Ford offer, have received serious consideration. This leads to the belief that Mr. Ford's offer is the best that has been submitted, but it has not been accepted.

Mr. Ford appears to be letting the government do the worrying. There is nothing to indicate that the Detroit manufacturer is losing any sleep over the Muscle Shoals matter. A couple of weeks ago it was announced from Washington that Mr. Ford had been asked by Secretary Weeks to come to Washington and talk over the matter. If Ford had been eager to push his offer through, he probably would have hurried to Washington, but he did not go near that city. Instead, Mr. Ford went to look over some coal mines he owns, and he let Secretary Weeks wait. Yesterday Mr. Ford's chief engineer called to see Mr. Weeks. The visit was by request of the secretary, it appears.

All of this merely goes to show that Mr. Ford has made his offer, and the government can accept it or not, but that Ford is not worrying. It is the consensus of opinion in this state that Ford should get the Muscle Shoals plants, and that if he does get them, he will make things happen on the banks of the Tennessee that never happened there before.

Some time back it was said Mr. Ford, if he secured the Muscle Shoals project, planned a development that included a city of 100,000 people at Muscle Shoals. No one who knows anything about Ford's way of doing things will doubt for a moment his ability to make even a larger city grow where he locates a big Ford industry. It is because people have faith in Ford's ability, have seen what he has done at other places and what he is doing right along that most people hope Ford will get the Muscle Shoals plants.

It is not fair to Mr. Ford, however, to delay action in the matter indefinitely. He could not be expected to keep his offer open for a great while, and it might be a bit disconcerting to the War department if some fine day Mr. Ford should withdraw his proposition.—Anniston Star.

One thing, the unemployment conference will give us more reading to do.

Good afternoon, did you find the gold at the foot of the rainbow?

It would be fine as Mr. Mellon says, to put taxes on checks, if it would put a check on taxes.

It is enrich yourself, or "pay the fiddler"—that's all.

2.75 beer is said to have no kick in it; but the advance in wholesale goods during last month of 2.75 per cent has a kick in it all right.

The best way for the nations that wish to disarm, is to do so themselves before trying to induce other to do so. Example is the great teacher even in international politics.

Lenine appears to be disappointed with the Russian people. It will be recalled that Bill denounced the German people after he was beaten.

It took the rains of yesterday to remind us that we are in the grand and glorious Autumn season, otherwise we would have thought it was July.

KISSIN' EM

A girl who's kissed against her will,
Will tremble, start and then keep still,
If thus no girl you've ever kissed, Migosh, you don't know what you've missed!—Country Gentleman.

We kissed a girl like that one time And thought that we would feel sublime She trembled, started, gave a cough And blame near knocked our fool head off!

money in this country and not enough time spending it.

NOT MUCH PROGRESS

Not long ago there appeared in a Western paper the following:

"The gentleman who found a pocketbook with money in Main Street is requested to forward it to the address of the loser, as he was recognized."

The next day there appeared in the same paper the response, which, although courteous, had an elusive air:

"The recognized gentleman who picked up a pocketbook in Main street requests the loser to call at his house at a convenient date." Harper's Magazine.

Queen of Morgan County Nomination Blank

Miss
Town or Route

Morgan County is expected to send its most beautiful young lady to the Birmingham Semi-Centennial Exposition week of Oct. 24 to 29. This queen is to be selected by popular ballot under the auspices of the Albany Chamber of Commerce. She will be one of 67 Queens from Alabama counties who will receive President and Mrs. Harding while on their visit to Alabama. She will be entertained royally, without cost during her stay in Birmingham.

Candidates for Queen of Morgan County must first be nominated, then voted on. Clip this coupon, fill in with name of the young lady you would like to see elected, then mail to the Albany Chamber of Commerce. Names of those nominated will be published in the Daily on Monday, Sept. 26. Then the voting will begin. Send this coupon in today.

MAN GIVES WIFE GLYCERINE MIXTURE

She had stomach trouble for years. After giving her simple buckthorn ark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, her husband says: "My wife feels fine now and has gained weight. It is wonderful stomach medicine." Adler-i-ka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing foul matter which poisoned stomach and which you never thought was in your system. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach or chronic constipation. Guards against appendicitis. The purities it brings out will surprise you. Dillehay Bros. Druggists.—Adv.

out of them the various places he had robbed. There were fifteen garages, private houses, grocery stores, and other incidental buildings on the list. Young Hoffman had been undisturbed in his career until two detectives saw him wandering about and thought he acted suspicious. They asked him what he did for a living. "I'm a burglar," the boy said calmly. "I live at home with my mother and father but I never work." "How much of a burglar are you?" they inquired. "Well," he replied proudly, "I've robbed at least eighty places since I began eight months or so ago. I'm a sharpshooter with a revolver, too. I shot a guy about three months ago."

"Launcelet and Elaine," a romantic drama in which the poetry and the language of Tennyson's "Idylls of the King" have been closely followed, has just opened at the Greenwich Village Theater. It is produced by the new Playwright and Players Company and is quite gorgeously put on. Gerald Rogers, Pedro de Cordoba, and Selena and Josephine Royle have the leading parts. The two latter are daughters of Edward Milton Royle, whose dramatization it is. There is lovely incidental music throughout which carries the Tennysonian spirit to perfection.

More Light on the Adam Family.
Referring to the recent statement of a scientist that the Garden of Eden was located in Ohio, we are reminded of the Scotch laird who told a famous singer that Gaelic was the language of Adam. The singer afterward spoke laughingly of the claim to another Scotchman, who remarked in all seriousness, "The laird was quite right. Dinna ye ken that the Garden of Eden was in Scotland? Dinna ye ken that Adam's name was McPherson?"—Boston Transcript.

Thousands Have Bad Breath And Don't Know It

Nothing is more offensive than a bad breath. Yet thousands of people suffer with this distressing affliction—and the surprising part of it is that a good part of them do not even realize it. Most people hesitate even to mention this disagreeable subject.

An excellent remedy for bad breath is daily use of an antiseptic mouth wash such as Steroline. A few drops of Steroline on your tooth brush will keep your mouth cool, sweet and fresh. It makes an excellent dentifrice, as it gets between the teeth, reaching all the hidden spots that ordinary tooth pastes and powders cannot reach. It arrests decay which is one of the commonest causes of bad breath and gives your mouth that "clean feeling." Get Steroline from your druggist today! For sale by Albany Drug Co.—Adv.

Preliminary Meeting

The cooling showers seemed to inspire new energy in the choir, their voices being heard for a long distance from the Tabernacle, as its members led the great choruses at the opening of the services. Rev. R. F. Stuckey, led the first prayer, and a solo "The Old, Old Story" was sung by Miss Ruth Banks. The Laxon Quartette of the Louisville and Nashville shops, then sang, followed by a vocal duet by Prof. Laxon and Loren Jones "Life's Railway to Heaven", was then sung by the entire congregation, followed by announcements by Mr. Haymaker, and the solo: "There is a place in heaven for you" by Loren Jones, preceded the sermon.

Early Day Peddler.

An important merchant of centuries ago was the man who did your buying for you. In those days there were no mail-order houses nor was there such a thing as running into town to do your shopping. So there was evolved a professional shopper who made it his business to buy what you needed. He was known as a packer, packer, or pake-man, and from these words the modern names resembling them have sprung.

Medical Advice for Sailors.

All ships at sea within a wide radius of New York may obtain free medical advice by wireless telegraphy, says Radio News (New York). This free dispensary is the first of its kind in the world. It will be available for hundreds of ships in New York harbor, up and down the Atlantic coast and for half-way across the Atlantic. Except for the great liners few ships carry doctors, but practically all are equipped with radio. The new service will be carried on by the Seaman's Church Institute in South street, which meets all the expenses of the undertaking.
